

InfraGard

InfraGard is a partnership between the FBI and members of the private sector. The InfraGard program provides a vehicle for seamless public-private collaboration with government that expedites the timely exchange of information and promotes mutual learning opportunities relevant to the protection of Critical Infrastructure. With thousands of vetted members nationally, InfraGard's membership includes business executives, entrepreneurs, military and government officials, computer professionals, academia and state and local law enforcement; each dedicated to contributing industry specific insight and advancing national security. Today, there are approximately 50,000 members in 84 local InfraGard Member Alliances (IMAs) represented nationally by the InfraGard Members Alliance (INMA). Each IMA is connected to a FBI Field Office.

Thousands of members, one mission: securing infrastructure

Mission:

The mission of the InfraGard Program is to foster collaboration and information sharing that enhances our collective ability to address threats to the United States' critical infrastructure through a robust private-sector/government partnership.

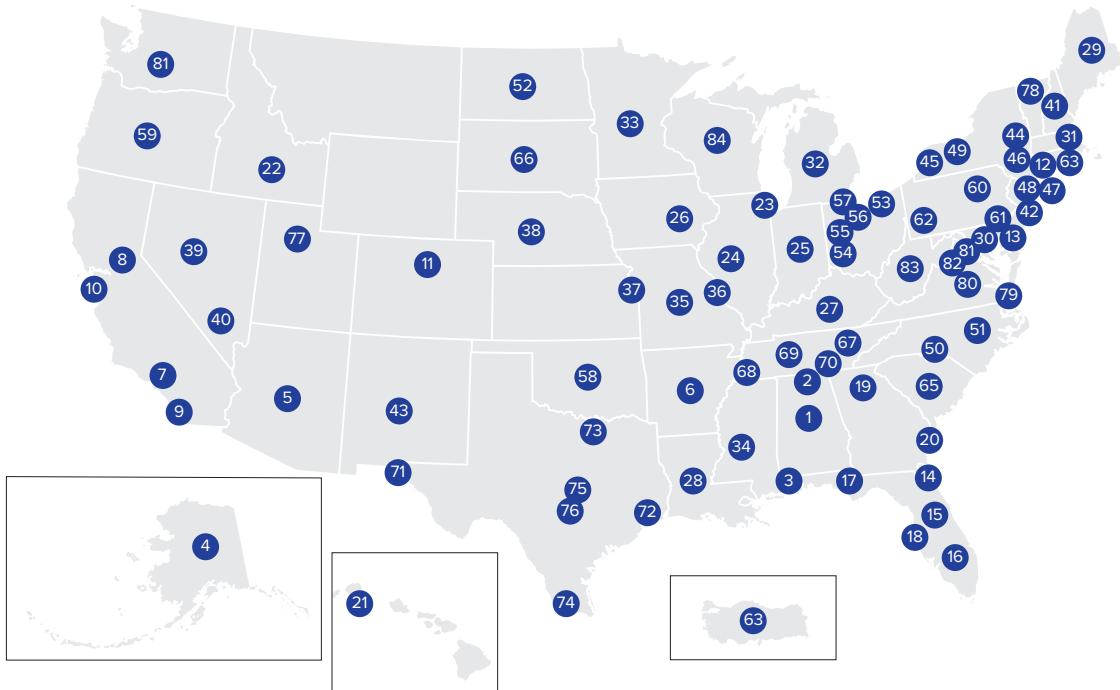

Goal:

The goal of InfraGard is to promote ongoing dialogue and timely communication between its members, the FBI and other federal, state and local law enforcement agencies and private sector members

Benefits:

- FBI and DHS threat advisories, intelligence bulletins, analytical reports and vulnerability assessments in real time
- FBI and other government agency presentations to InfraGard chapters at member events
- Direct engagement with the FBI, other government agencies, and private sector experts at the local level
- Admittance to a members-only web portal that provides access to the latest FBI intelligence and the ability to collaborate and share assessments and critical infrastructure protection information with colleagues
- Opportunities to attend training events and briefings held by the FBI and its law enforcement partners

INFRAGARD MEMBER ALLIANCES

The FBI's InfraGard Members Alliance is an information sharing and analysis effort combining the knowledge base, and serving the interests of a wide range of private sector partners who own, operate, and hold key positions within some 85 percent of the nation's critical infrastructure. With thousands of members nationally, InfraGard's subject matter experts include business executives, entrepreneurs, military and government officials, computer professionals, academia, and state and local law enforcement; each dedicated to advancing national security.

While the FBI gains an improved understanding of the threatscape and a rich source of intelligence provided by the InfraGard organization, members are extended access to a host of information and assets that enable them to play a key role in securing infrastructure. In addition, members who utilize program benefits are better equipped to protect their investments by identifying, prioritizing and mitigating vulnerabilities, developing incident response plans, and enacting the most current security best practices.

Membership Requirements:

- U.S. citizen, 18 years or older
- Consent to an FBI security risk assessment and periodic re-certifications
- Notify the FBI of any pending criminal matters
- Sign and adhere to a Confidentiality and Non-disclosure Agreement
- Agree to adhere to InfraGard Code of Ethics
- Be linked to one or more Critical Infrastructure sectors
